VOLUME XXXIII. UKIAH CITY, MENDOCINO COUNTY, CAL., FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 10, 1902. NUMBER 16

LETTER FROM ALTA ANDERSON

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9, 1901.

EDITOR DISPATCH—

Having entered the San Francisco Business College some three weeks ago, and thinking that some of my Mendocino friends and supporters and the Editor, to whom I owe my business course, which I expect to complete, would like to hear what I think of the work done, and how I am progressing, I will now try and write a few lines regarding the same.

I can truthfully say that I am very much pleased with the school, the subjects taught and the manner of teaching.

I was not fortunate enough to secure the first scholarship, but I think I was even more fortunate by winning the second, as I think the shorthand will do me more good, and besides, in six months I can learn it thoroly, while if I were to take the full course, I am afraid I could not master it all in that time.

The system of short hand taught is the Gregg, the easiest and most legible known. Some people think the Pitmanic is better, but their only reason for this is that it is more in use. It is bound to be, as it is so much older, but after a few more years have elapsed, Pitmanic writers will be a thing of the past. At first shorthand seemed very hard and perplexing to me but I am getting very much interested in it, and I think that with considerable practice in getting up speed I shall be all right. I now average about seventy words a minute.

The typewriting taught is the "touch". It is the best system known, being so much easier for the writer as all you need to do is look at your notes and write right along, never noticing the keyboard of the machine.

The penmanship taught is aneasy, legible hand, there being nothing fancy about it.

Rapid calculation is very fascinating. One learns step by step and at last you get so you must follow whether you want to or not.

Like Mr. Brown, I think that the S. F. B. C. is as much or even more than The Editor or anyone else ever spoke of it to be, and to those who failed in the contest, or anyone who intends to take a business course, this is the place to go, if you want to go to learn, as here you are in business all thru.

For instance there is Miss Della Shimmins, who failed to win a scholarship, but was determined to secure a business education, took advantage when the opportunity presented itself and is now attending. Others should follow her example.

Alfred Peterson arrived and is started in his work.

Miss Maude Sherwood has not yet arrived but we all hope it will be in the near future.

Ere I close I will offer once more my thanks to The Editor and all who helped me, and say that even tho I worked hard, I shall never regret it.

Hoping 1902 will fare well with everyone within dear old Mendocino's borders, I am

Rev. J. L. Burchard Killed.

Rev. J. L. Burchard, one of the oldest Methodist Ministers in the state, and well known thruout Mendocino county, was crushed to death by an electric car in Oakland while on his way to church last Sunday. Death was instantaneous as his skull was crushed.

The deceased minister was almost 78 years old and was ordained as a minister at the age of 19. He came to California in 1860 and was for several years United States Indian Agent at the Round Valley Reservation. Later he was appointed by his church Conference as Missionary Pastor of the Indians in this and Potter vallies. He made his home in Santa Rosa, but came up periodically to attend to his duties among the Indians. His wife died in Santa Rosa last May and being then on the list of retired ministers, he went to make his home with his son, Attorney D. W. Burchard. He was respected as a man of probity and integrity by all who knew him and he had served his church in all parts of the state.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

Rumors were rife this week to the effect that a contagious disease had made its appearance in Ukiah. This was further augmented by an article in a local paper that diphtheria had also broken out.

The board of health acting promptly sent Dr. Rea to make an investigation. Dr. Rea reported that no case of diphtheria existed in the community.

In regard to the other contagion, health officer Rea reported that Miss Flora Van Allen had contracted a mild form of small pox while in San Francisco. The Board of Health then out of an abundance of precaution, quarantined the house and then had Miss Van Allen, and those who had been exposed, removed to an isolated place, so that the disease whatever it may be, might be stamped out.

Miss Van Allen is receiving splendid treatment and will be all right soon. Her case was not at all serious and the people of the community need not feel any undue alarm over the spreading of the contagion.

The board of health acted wisely and should receive the thanks of the entire community. While our scare may have been all imaginary, still its better to be on the safe side. Everything is perfectly safe now. There is no contagious disease within the City limits. Every one that has been exposed has been quarantined, and the people can go about business and forget the little scare.

This same contagion appeared in San Francisco, Redding Stockton, San Jose and other places. It was undoubtedly brot over from Manila. No serious results have followed still all the towns took the same precaution that Ukiah did.

Suits against Fish Nets.

Two suits which are unique in character, at least in this county, were filed in the Superior Court a few days ago. They are entitled H. W. Keller et al, The Board of Fish Commissioners vs. one Fish net 30 fathoms long—Defendant and the same plaintiffs vs Three fish nets about 18 fathoms long. These nets were seized by deputy Fish Commissioner Thomas Rhodes where they were set in the Noyo river, on the 15 and 17 of December last. The owners of the nets are not known and the suit is in the nature of a petition to the Superior Court to declare the nets forfeited and order their destruction.

Funeral of Mollie Taylor.

The large attendance at the funeral of Mollie Taylor at the M. E. Church, south, last Friday afternoon evidenced the high esteem in which she was held in this community, and the universal sympathy felt for the bereaved family. Long before the appointed hour for the service to begin, the church was practically filled, tho dozens of chairs were brot in and the stairways, vestibule and part of the street were filled. The choir, consisting of Mesdames Weldon and Seawell and Messrs J. R. and Rob. Thomas rendered in a most touching manner the opening song "Bye and bye" which was followed by prayer by Rev. Dr. J. E. Moore. Rev. W. O. Waggener delivered a funeral sermon, which was full of comfort and consolation to the mourning ones, and which found a response in the breasts of all present. The choir then sang "It is well" and the concluding exercise were held at the cemetery.

The pall-bearers, who were dressed in black suits with white ties and gloves, were: George and Jesse Porterfield, Willie Carothers, Frank Barker, Volney Seawell, and Wm. Moore.

THE CHRONICLE ON MENDOCINO

Phenomenal Development During The Past Year.

The "New Era" edition of the San Francisco Chronicle, issued December 29th, 1901, which is an industrial review of the State, furnishing facts and statistics of incalculable value, has this to say about Mendocino county:

"Mendocino county has developed phenominally within the past year. She has had her disasters, but has emerged with great credit. In June last the town of Willits was almost entirely destroyed by fire, but on the site of the old wooden town has arisen a modern village. Instead of the ramshackle frame buildings, there have been erected rows of fine and substantial brick structures. Where, before the fire, there were but four general merchandise stores, there are now a dozen, and buildings are still being erected. The California Northwestern Railway has been extended from Ukiah to that town, a distance of nearly thirty miles. Ukiah has also caught up with the procession, and many residences have been built within the past year, which has been one of the most prosperous in the city's history.

"The Albion Mill Company, which lost its plant by fire some months ago, has rebuilt and put in a modern saw mill with a capacity of 100,000 feet a day. The California Redwood Company has put in a mill near Willits which employs about 300 men daily and now has enough lumber in its yards to keep the transportation companies going for many months.

"The tourist and pleasure-seeking travel has been very large during the year. A syndicate has bonded the Vichy Springs property, and plans have been made for a $65,000 hotel, on which work will be commenced during the coming spring.

"A larger acreage of cereals will be sown this year than ever before, and the grazing lands, which were practically depleted of cattle and sheep during the past two years, are being rapidly restocked, and only the best of breeds are being introduced. New orchards and vineyards are being planted all over the county, and even in the most thickly forested portions of the county new clearings may be seen, bearing thriving young orchards. The advent of the railroad has also created a boom in Round Valley, and many improvements are noted there.

"Fort Bragg has enjoyed a season of unusual prosperity, and the farmers along the coast have made extensive improvements on their ranches. Taken altogether, there is certainly no reason for the citizens of Mendocino to feel unhappy. Their crops are never failing, the rainfall being always amply sufficient to insure good returns. The tan bark industry alone has brot in over $100,000 during the season. Sheep raising is now experiencing a boom, and while the price of hops is low, the profits are good."

Dr. E. G. Case has men at work putting down a side walk along the block upon which his residence faces.

It is rumored that the Cured Fruit Association will pay another dividend next month by which time there ought to be a large amount of money to distibute.

Senator Seawell, who was slightly indisposed for a few days, is now able to attend to business again.

P.M. Cook was over from Boonville Sunday.

LETTER FROM GREENWOOD

GREENWOOD, Jan. 5, 1902

The work of repairing the new Greenwood dam will be completed during the week.

We are rejoicing over the success of our local Board of Health in stamping out diphtheria from our midst. The quarantine measures taken by the Board were most effective.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Merriam have returned from their wedding tour. The expected charivari was much in evidence.

The shipping business here is booming, three vessels having loaded here during the last few days and another is expected on Tuesday next.

Doc. Dougherty visited Schillersville during the week, and returned on Friday last. He reports that the alteration on Greenwood Anderson Valley Road between Shillersville and Valentis are nearly completed.

Sunday's steamer brought a new boiler from the Baldwin Locomotive work for the big engine of the Greenwood Railroad. It will be put in at once.

Our citizens are already making preparations for the reception of the Teachers' institute, the first meeting of that Committee having been held on Saturday last.

A use has at last been found for the wood ordinarily consumed in our slab-fires. Mr. Frank Hall is having plans drawn for wood-alcohol distillation plant, which he expects to erect on the Greenwood mill Flat.

A large number of tie-makers passed through here during the last few days on the way to the Garcia tie-camps. Mr. E. B. Salsig who has charge of the L. E. White Lumber Company's interests on the Garcia River was here on Sunday last, and reports that there are now about one hundred and twenty-five tie-makers at work there, and he expects to start two new camps in virgin timber during the next few weeks.

A new site for the bark mill of the California Tanning Extrac Company has been selected, and work on its erection will be commenced at once. Mr. Fred Merriam will supervise it.

The masquerade ball given New Year's Eve by Greenwood Parlor No 209, N. S. G. W. was a decided success, notwithstanding the presence of diphtheria in our midst. The hit of the evening was Mr. James McClelland and Lem Shibley who represented two aboriginal Native Daughters from Rancheria No. 121. The Native Sons deserve great credit for the able manner in which they handled the affair. They are perfect hosts.

MARIGOLD

Work of Recorder's Office.

There has been a steady increase in the work devolved upon the Recorder's office of this county ever since Mr. P. Connolly took office. The receipts for fees for 1899 were $2,286.75. In 1900 they increased to $2,556.65 and in 1901 they reached the sum of $3,226.75 or $226.75 more than twice as much as the Recorder's salary. The lowest month's fees were $132.75 in July 1900, and the highest was $407.60 in April 1901. In every month of the 36 the fees collected have been more than the Recorder's salary.

The number of instruments recorded in 1901 was 3216 at an average of a little over a dollar each.

Tomorrow is the beginning of a great slaughter in Men's, Boys and Children's clothing at the City of Ukiah.

Sheriff Grace of Santa Rosa was in Ukiah Saturday on business.

POTTER ITEMS.

POTTER VALLEY, Jan. 8 1901

Another pretty and merry Christmas has passed, and with it goes the happy remembrances of our usual festivities: namely trees and dances.

There were several trees in the valley laden with treasures from St. Nicholas Land; and the masquerade which was given by the Foresters was largely attended by the neighboring, as well as the home folks. It proved a splendid affair at which all present had an enjoyable time as is always the case when Court San Hedrin gives a dance.

Several of our wide awake people had watch meetings New Year's eve.

On that night the pretty home of Mr. Joseph Thornton, Sr. was the scene of joy and mirth. A few invited friends were present and the evening was spent in games and dancing. At midnight a delicious supper was spread and when the clock registered the advent of the New Year, a number of welcoming salutes were fired and then the feasting and merriment were resumed. At a late hour the crowd broke up with many thanks and good wishes to Mrs. Bashford, Miss Thornton and brothers, who had contributed another golden evening to the lives of those present.

In Centerville at the cozy home of Mrs. E. E. Holbrooke a merry few were gathered to bid farewell to the old and usher in the new year with smiles and gladness. It is needless to say that a pleasant evening was spent for Mr. and Mrs. Holbrooke were assisted in their entertaining by their sisters and brothers, the Misses and Messrs. Busch who never fail to make those about them have a happy time. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening and later when 1902 had been fully greeted, the revelers again wished their charming host and hostess a happy New Year and then departed for their various homes—there to begin another year which we hope will prove a prosperous and happy one.

Fred Howe is making a visit here but will return to Santa Rosa to attend High. He will be accompanied by his sister, Miss Philena, who will spend her vacation in Santa Rosa and Frisco.

Miss Mabel Busch and her little brother, George, spent Christmas with friends and relatives here.

Mrs. T. P. Hopkins and daughter leave this week for Oakland, at which place they will reside for sometime so that Miss Etta may enter the Polytechnic High.

Mr. and Mrs. John Day were called to the city on account of the sickness of their daughter, Miss Lottie, who is very ill with typhoid pneumonia.

News reached here recently of the death of Mr. H. P. McGee. Mr. McGee was a resident of this valley for many years and he leaves many friends and a number of relatives to mourn for him. X

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Surprise Party.

LARGO, Jan. 8, 1902

The elite of Largo gave Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Whisler a surprise party last Saturday evening at their home. A large hay-wagon started from Largo gathering up each jovial party on the way. When the unlucky number of thirteen were taken in one lady exclaimed "I want to get out and walk" but we convinced her that one certain couple would only count as one and she remained with the jolly crowd. At the gate the ones awaiting swelled our number to twenty-five. After a genuine surprise, our host and hostess and all were closing around the fire when the sweet strains of the violin and guitar were heard under the window. Then we had a genuine surprise. The musicians, hearing of our intended party, met there to enjoy the pleasantries with us and discourse music while games were played etc. and enjoyed the genial time that is always genial when youth and beauty meet.

Refreshments were served at eleven and after partaking we climbed into the "hay-stack" and with many a song and jest we were soon home: then to bed dreaming of pretty girls and handsome beds. May there be many jolly parties to pass the monotonous winter evenings, is the wish of all the participants. Jess

A Very Common Ailment.

It is a mystery why women endure Backache, Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and Dizzy Spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney troubles," writes Mrs. Phebe Cherley, of Peterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters wholly cured me, and, although 73 years old, I am now able to do all my housework." It overcomes Constipation, improves Appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c at J. R. Mathew's drug store.

PT. ARENA CULLINGS.

(From The Record).

S.F. Farmer, of the Paltino Oil Co. was a passenger by Sunday's steamer. He brot up with him a lot of shoveles, iron wheelbarrows, etc., for use in the mine at Campbells.

J. C. Halliday was an outgoing passenger on Wednesday's steamer to be absent several months. He will visit the southern part of the State and Mexico with the hope of benefiting his health.

John Henry, a marine fireman on the steamer Gualala, was terribly scalded by escaping steam from an exploded steam pipe on the trip to the city last week. It is thought that he will die, as his body is nearly cooked to the bone.

Ed. Sanborn, representing the company who have the contract for boring the oil well at this place, arrived Sunday, and is now busy placing the machinery, which arrived last week, in position.

The petition for a seven day a week mail has been largely signed by the people in this vicinity. That there is a pressing need for a daily mail service along the coast is self evident to everyone and it is to be hoped the authorities at Washington will comply with the prayer of the petitioners.

Beadle Bros. have given out the information that the steamer Brooklyn will be ready for sea some time next month, and in addition to the Point Arena will be put on the coast line next summer, giving this place two steamers a week. The Brooklyn is twice the size of the Point Arena, has large state rooms, a reception hall and draws about the same amount of water. Two steamers a week will be of great convenience and material benefit to this place during the summer.

CUMMINGS CRUMPETS.

CUMMINGS, Jan. 4, 1902.

Yes, we had two our lines for Christmas, and another for New Years' day. Hurrah for 1902 and Peiance and Sociability! This locality, as ever, is in the vanguard of progress, and its fame for sociability, if not international, is at least interoceanic and interneciae. However, give us our due, you foreign powers, and remember the old saw about the devil and his dusky skin. Happily, there are no deaths to record, nor even sickness, and, if this were not so small a portion of the "great round globe," we should feel inclined to contradict the assertion of that old, wrinkled, toothless midnight reveler who declared so sagely over his can and cup that "Every moment dies a man; Every moment one is born." But if there are no deaths to record, there are several births, if we have not been misinformed. Five births to "nary" death! How is that for high? We shall soon populate the desert.

Winter is still holding aloof and glaring down at us from under his wool white feathery cap, perched askew on the misty purple heights. No doubt he'll take a toboggan ride or a chute leap some wry night, accompanied by a blast from old Boreas to herald his approach, and completely shut us in from the world with great blobs of the beautiful. Jupiter Pluvius has been actively and kindly engaged in settling the dust and washing the tender green, and now old Sol is doing the dry act. Really, it isn't half bad, is it, this old world?

J. K. Purcell gave us another one of his grand balls at Christmas. J.K. did himself proud. There is no other place at which the people have so good a time. It was indeed a merry, merry Christmas. The guests went shouting down and smiling home, and each had a word of praise for the good time, and the unexpressed wish that it may all be repeated a year hence gleamed thru the windows of each soul. Arthur Tracy, after enjoining the sun somewhat in the manner of Joshua on Ajalon but without the startling result, took a snap shot at the whole crowd with his usual accurate aim. May success attend his efforts in the dark room, and the day light reveal a thing of beauty. Which it certainly should do if one considers the beauty "afoornist" the shot.

The cow mystery is still as much a mystery as ever—quite in the trunk line. The people are patiently waiting for Mr. Dunham to prosecute the accused, which his duty, not only to himself, but to the public as well, demands. Such a crime should not be passed in silence.

Alonzo A. Powell is spending the winter at home with his widowed mother and acting the part of head and host with his customary felicity.

Mrs. Asa Tracey has just returned home laden with Christmas presents after a long and enjoyable visit (the first in sixteen years) with relatives and friends in Oakland and San Francisco. The latter city was the scene of her marriage and her home for many years thereafter. She ate so much ice cream while there she thinks that she will have no difficulty in keeping cool next summer. Her son, who lorded it over the culinary department during her absence, rivaling the White House chef de cuisine with his savory roasts, is now going about smiling benignly over two Meerschaum pipes with a cigar sandwiched between. No reason why he should not be happy.

Now, Mr. Editor, we are well aware that you do not run a query department in THE DISPATCH, but we would like very much to have a question answered just the same, so here goes: Is it possible to prove up on a claim, never having lived on it nor improved it?

Be sure and come to see us and recollect the dates. Remember this will be at the Grand Hotel Jan. 14th 15th and 16th:

Look out for Frost

Now is the time for our orchardists to pay some attention to the question of spring frosts. Last year about all the fruit in the valley was killed by frost and a few repetitions of that experience will mean the abandonment or digging up of our orchards.

It stands our horticulturists in hand to ascertain whether there is anything they can do to lessen or entirely obviate the danger from spring frosts.

In Southern California, smudging has already been resorted to this winter to save the orange crop, and we are told that damage from frost may be averted by judicous smudging at all critical times. At the recent State Horticultural Convention it was urged by scientific men that every horticulturist provide himself with a proper thermometer which will cost about $5,00, and provide in advance the means for thoro smudging. This can be done in various ways, but any plan involves care and some expense. There ought to be cooperation thruout this valley in this regard. The U. S. weather service may be of great service in giving warning, aud Mr McAdie will cheerfully furnish information and give warnings if asked to do so.

If the orchardists were prepared to smudge, watchmen could be employed to give warning by preconcerted signals when the danger point approaches, and in a few minutes this entire valley could be enveloped in a cloud of smoke. And as we scarcely ever have winds here in the early morning hours the result would be as effective as anywhere in the State.

If our orchards are worth having they are worth attending to properly.

The Commoner.

(Mr. Bryan's Paper.)

The Commoner has attained within six months from date of the first issue a circulation of 100,000 copies, a record probably never equaled in the history of American periodical literature. The unparalleled growth of this paper demonstrates that there is room in the newspaper field for a national paper devoted to the discussion of political, economic and social problems. To the columns of The Commoner Mr. Bryan contributes his best efforts; and his review of political events as they arise from time to time can not fail to interest those who study public questions.

The Commoner's regular subscription price is $1.00 per year. We have arranged with Mr. Bryan whereby we can furnish his paper and THE DISPATCH together for one year for $3.25. The regular subscription price of the two papers when subscribed for separately is $3.50.

FUNERAL REPRESENTATIVES.

Busy men have no time for attending ordinary funerals; therefore it has now become the fad to send secretaries and office boys to pay the final tribute of respect to friendship. At a recent quiet funeral in this city a clerkly looking young man was stopped at the door by the servant, who demanded his business. "I am come to attend the final obsequies," was the reply. "Friend of the family?" inquired the lackey. "Not personally, but I represent Messrs. Blank & Thank, who are unable to be here." He was admitted. Some mutual acquaintances, talking about the funeral a few days later, expressed surprise that neither Blank nor Thank, both intimate friends of the deceased, was present, and were still more surprised to learn that the firm's office boy did the honors by special appointment.—New York Press.

Origin of a Famous Phrase.

It was Judge Thomas M. Cooley of Michigan, instead of Grover Cleveland, who first gave utterance to the famous phrase, "A public office is a public trust." Governor Durbin of Indiana is to blame for dispelling the illusion. In a speech recently he attributed the authorship of the saying to Judge Cooley, and upon being called upon to give his authority he sent to Clerk Hopkins of the supreme court, who had no difficulty in finding the words in a copy of Cooley's "Principles of Constitutional Law," published in 1880, several years before the words were made famous by President Cleveland. There is, however, no claim that President Cleveland believed he was coining a phrase when he employed the words. He simply expressed an established truth.—Detroit Free Press.

Women Who Smoke.

A venerable woman calmly puffing away at an old clay pipe was one of the sights, now much less frequent than formerly, in the Carthage (Kan.) courthouse the other day. She had come in from some of the backwoods corners of Jasper county, where there are others of her kind.

"From Tennessee? Why, sartinly," she replied to the local interviewer's query, "and from South Ca'liny to Tennessee when a little girl. You see, us girls learned to smoke the tobacco we raised, and the boys they chawed it, and there wasn't no objections from the old folks. When we come out to Missouri, along afore the war, our pipes come too. Yes; I reckon I ain't the only old lady in Jasper county what smokes a pipe."

Aluminium Nails.

After many unsuccessful experiments and trials an alloy of aluminium has been made with which nails, staples and tacks can be made to compete with copper. Among other advantages claimed for the new material is that it is not affected by the weather and will not deteriorate, as in laying roofs, lining tanks, etc. As the alloy is noncorrosive and nonpoisonous the new nails ought to find favor among makers of refrigerators and other articles used for food storage. When the difference in point of number and weight is taken into consideration, it is seen that aluminium nails are about 4 cents a pound cheaper than copper nails. It is not intended to put them in competition with

CONDENSED STORIES.

When John Meech Carried His Audience With Him.

A standing joke for years among actors has been an expression about carrying an audience along with one's company. "I shall carry my own band and orchestra with me next season," says a manager in discussing his plans. "Better carry your own audience, too," replies a listener. But there is on record one example of a manager's doing that very thing. Some years ago John H. Meech put on his son as a star in an old comedy called "Arabian Nights." The performance was bad, and the audiences were gratefully small. But Meech was undaunted. He [illegible] to bring his son before [illegible] in the [illegible] of the [illegible], a village of about [illegible] population between [illegible] and Buffalo. The night of the performance Meech and [illegible] left Buffalo [illegible] his company [illegible] performance. So [illegible] to Lancaster. When he entered the theater, there were about 200 persons, all in evening dress, in the house. Everson afterward said that he never saw a worse performance in his life and never a more enthusiastic audience. Almost every line met with a hearty laugh or boisterous applause. At the conclusion of each act the performers were called before the curtain. Still wondering, Everson walked out to the front of the house after the performance. Meech met him and told him that two special trolley cars were waiting to take the audience home. "Are all these people going back to Buffalo tonight?" asked Everson. "Oh, yes," answered Meech. "I brought them with me. I was bound to have an audience." "Well, what—what were the actual receipts tonight, if I may ask?" continued Everson. "Two dollars and twenty-five cents," replied Meech. "You see, I couldn't charge my guests." And the entire audience entered the cars that Meech had chartered and returned to Buffalo.

Two Things In His Favor.

Mark Twain, says a London newspaper, was dining lately with a literary dining club in London, one of whose rules is that each member should introduce his guests formally and in set phrase to the company. This unusual custom appealed to Twain, and when it came to his turn to return thanks he referred to it eulogistically.

"I like it," he drawled, "for it reminds me of a time I lectured in a little town in the Rockies. My chairman was a well to do 'cow puncher,' who found the situation evidently irksome. 'I'm told I must introduce this yer man t'ye, boys,' he said, 'but I can only see two things in his favor. One is that he's never been in jail and the other is that I don't know why,' and then he sat down," as Mark Twain did.

A Practical Joke.

One of the most popular playwrights in Paris was recently a victim of a practical joke. In order to get peace and quietness to finish a play he went to a country town. At the station, to his astonishment, he was received with hooting and also cordial shakes of the hand from a crowd of entire strangers. He found his villa surrounded by a great throng, and his appearance was the signal for hooting and cheering. In despair he went to the mayor of the town, who calmly informed him that he was Dreyfus in disguise.

Slept While the Kaiser Preached.

Emperor William of Germany preaches sermons occasionally on board his yacht, the Hohenzollern, and the story is told that a sailor was once brought to book for sleeping during the royal sermon. "Oh, let the poor fellow off," said the kaiser when the matter was brought before him. "He has been punished enough already. Besides, it wasn't much of a sermon, anyhow."

IT MUST COME.

As inevitable as the changing seasons of the year is the change which comes to every woman. And just as one anticipates the changes of other seasons it is wise to anticipate this change of season and prepare for it. In this way the discomforts and disasters suffered by many women at the period of change can be avoided or overcome.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a medicine for every season of woman's life, will entirely meet the needs of women at this period of change. It cures the physical ills and allays the mental anxiety and depression usually [illegible] at this critical period. It [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] Chester, Calif., [illegible] "I [illegible] your medicine [illegible] and have also experienced that if it did not cure I would pay back the money spent to me. I have told our druggist that if the people came back and said Dr. Pierce's medicines did not give satisfaction, to [illegible] Favorite Prescription [illegible] of women."

Give the Firemen a Benefit.

The members of the Eagle Fire Co., as has been the custom, gave a ball on New Years eve this year. It is understood that the ball was not very well patronized and as a result the boys did not make expenses. This of course was not due to the fact that the people of Ukiah do not appreciate the efforts of the fire laddies, but to the fact that large public dances are beginning to be a thing of the past in cities as large as Ukiah. If the people had taken a second thot many of them would have purchased tickets whether they intended to attend the ball or not, simply to aid a good cause.

The Eagle Fire Co. should not be allowed to stand this loss. The boys do splendid work in case of fire, in fact the Ukiah fire Co. is undoubtedly the best volunteer fire company in the state. It is composed of our best young men who have the best interests of our city at heart. Hardly a fire occurs but what some member of the company spoils a suit of clothes, a hat, or some article of wearing apparel. This is an individual loss. All the boys get is the hard work and the glory.

Now, in view of these facts, THE DISPATCH suggests that the citizens of this community come to their relief and help them out. Why not give a benefit to the firemen on Feb. 22nd? We have some splendid talent in town and a play or musical could be gotten up for the benefit of the Firemen, as the ball was not a financial success. Who will take the matter up? Some one should.

Bright Outlook.

Democratic prospects for the Congressional campaign of 1902 and for the Presidential campaign of 1904 warrant confidence to a degree not more fully justified at any time for many years past, says the St. Louis Republic.

The two great American parties are now distinctly aligned for battle on issues which typically divide Republicanism and Democracy. There are no other political parties in the field. The Populists and the Silver Republicans who figured in the National contests of 1896 and 1900 have now been absorbed by one or the other of the two distinctive political organizations: The election of Congressmen next year and of a president three years from now will follow campaigns in which the Democratic and Republican parties alone submit candidates and platforms for approval by American voters.

As the issues likely to prevail in these campaigns are now shaping themselves, the advantage accrues to American Democracy. There is little reason to doubt that the trusts and the tariff will be paramount as the vital questions to be settled at the polls. Republican sentiment is not united on either issue. There is a growing belief in the party which created the trusts that the public safety demands the restriction of trust power if the people are not to be utterly surrendered into the grasp of monopolistic combinations. President Roosevelt himself is credited with sharing this belief. There is also a Republican demand for tariff revision. But, so potent in the Republican national organization is that trust influence which forbids alike the restriction of trusts and the revision of the tariff that the likelihood of Republican action in the people's behalf is remote.

On the other hand, Democratic sentiment is solidly arrayed against the trusts and the trust creating high tariff. The American people, at last aroused to the menace contained in these twin evils, are more truly Democratic than ever before. They will demand trust restriction and tariff revision. Their demand will be exactly met by the National Democracy. The Republican party must necessarily attempt to quibble and to dodge these issues. Democratic victory is the logical promise of such a situation.

Madden Should be Removed.

Mr. Edwin C. Madden is the third assistant postmaster general of the United States, but he ought not to be. He is showing himself totally incompetent to comprehend the duties of his position or the powers delegated to him. For several months he has been handing out rulings and decisions with relation to second class mail matter which the law does not warrant and which, if enforced will be ruinous to many of the publishing interests of the country. Not content with driving out of existence or out of the country a number of Labor and Reform Journals under these rulings, his coup de main come a couple of weeks ago, when in one of his extraordinary rulings he denied the right of a publisher to extend credit to any subscriber for his paper, under penalty of withdrawal of mailing privileges. In this ruling Mr. Madden has assumed the function of making and interpreting laws tho he is connected neither with the legislative or judiciary branches of the government. It is in fact a usurpation of power which amounts to tyranny which calls for his immediate retirement to private life. There is no appeal from the rulings of Mr. Madden in relation to second class mail matter, except thru the courts, and as a resort to the courts would cause expense, vexation and delay, the best course would be for the publishing interests of the country to join forces with the Federation of Labor and demand his instant removal and at the same time raise such a storm about the ears of the President and Postmaster General, that such demand would be promptly complied with. The Trades Assembly of Springfield, Ohio, has already passed resolutions demanding Madden's removal and this action should be closely followed up all over the country.

Should Madden's ruling be enforced it would mean the suspension and ruin of hundreds of country weeklies, without any benefit to the government whatever. While it is perhaps true that the rate charged for second class matter does not, on an average, cover the expense of its carriage, statistics prove that every pound of second class matter creates enough profit bearing business for the department, in the sale of stamps, money orders and registered letters to more than balance the apparent loss. Mr. Madden should be made to go.

The Trinity Journal, published at Weaverville, has entered upon its forty-seventh year. The fact that it has survived all the vicissitudes of nearly half a century is evidence that it has a mission and is successfully fulfilling it. The Journal is a good paper and we wish it continued success.

Whenever there is a skirmish in South Africa in which the Boers succeed in killing, wounding or capturing fifty or sixty British soldiers, reports are telegraphed all over the world, and we are told that there is dismay in England. When it is considered that the British army in South Africa numbers nearly 200,000 men, the absurdity of concluding that the loss of half a hundred men occasionally is a calamity calculated to throw a great nation into a condition of despair, becomes apparent. Our sympathies are with the struggling Boers, but we realize that they are gradually being exhausted, and that unless saved by international meditation they are doomed as an independent people.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

A bride who began housekeeping in a New York city apartment a few weeks ago had considerable trouble with roaches. They got into everything. The bride was in distraction. But when her husband got home from his office one night he found the bride beaming with joy.

"I have fixed it," she cried, hardly waiting for the man to take off his coat. "I have done just the brightest thing! I have got rid of them, or, at least, some of them."

"Them? Who?" demanded the husband.

"Why, the roaches, of course," replied the bride, leading the way to the kitchen.

There in the center of a table was a big heap of dead roaches. They were mixed in with a brown powder.

"You got some kind of roach poison, I see," commented the husband. "It works all right, does it?"

"Splendidly. Why, I just put a little heap of it there and it killed all of those right away. But it took me a long time to catch them."

"Catch them?"

"Of course. You see, you put some of this powder on a table. Then you catch the bugs and put them into it. It kills most of them right away, but some try to run away and then you have to hold them right in it."

"I see," said the husband, and he walked away without another word.

But, then, he had been married only a very few weeks.—New York Sun.

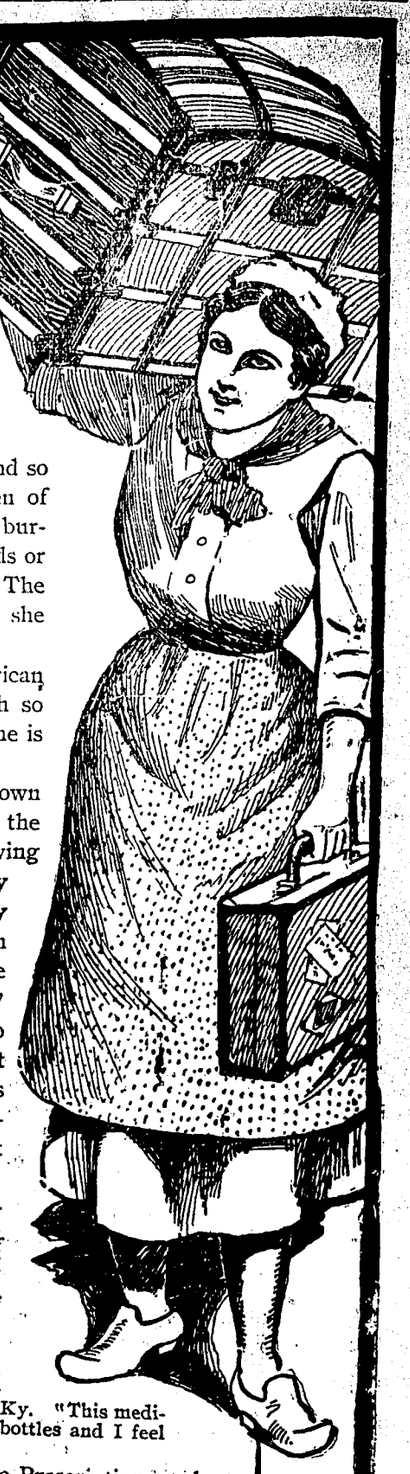
BURDENED WOMEN



Tourists upon the European continent are amazed to find women doing the work which in America is left entirely to the men. It shocks the American sense of chivalry to have a woman pick up the trunk and handbag, and carry them while he walks empty-handed. But sentiment aside, which is the most burdened woman, she who carries trunk and handbag or that other woman so dainty and so weak who goes through life bearing the invisible burden of pain? The woman who bears the trunk lays down her burden when the day is done, enjoys an evening with friends or family, and goes to bed to sleep soundly till morning. The woman whose burden is pain never lays down the load she carries, day or night.

The finest and fairest woman in the world is the American woman. Her one defect is the womanly weakness which so often destroys her beauty and mars her usefulness while she is yet in the springtime of life.

There is not a woman who would not be glad to lay down this burden of ill-health; to exchange the dragging step, the sensitive nerves, the pain-racked body, for a body glowing with abundant health. That exchange is made possible by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In the many letters received by Dr. Pierce from women who have been cured by the use of his "Favorite Prescription," there is one phrase constantly recurs: "I feel like a new woman." After describing the complete change from weakness to strength and from sickness to health, and still feeling that there is a failure to express all the happiness that health has brought, the writers fall back on the time-worn words expressive of absolute and entire change and improvement of physical and mental conditions.

"Before I commenced to use your medicine I was in a bad condition (for eight years) and four doctors treated me," writes Mrs. Bettie Askew, of Garysburg, Northampton Co., N. C. "They of course gave me at the time some relief but it did not last long. I was some days in my bed and some days I dragged about the house. I have used five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and five bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and four vials of the 'Pellets.' Now I feel like a new woman, and I want the world to know it."

"I suffered with female weakness about eight years—tried several doctors but derived no benefit until I began using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. John Green, of Danville, Boyle Co., Ky. "This medicine was recommended to me by other patients. I have taken six bottles and I feel like another person."

The wonderful curative properties of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription are best displayed in the cures of chronic diseases, which local physicians had treated without success or pronounced to be absolutely incurable. The cure of Mrs. Graham, as told in her letter given below, is an illustration of what has been done for hundreds and thousands of weak and sick women. Here is a case of a woman who had never seen a well day since she reached womanhood. Physicians agreed that hers was an incurable chronic disease. And yet by the use of "Favorite Prescription" Mrs. Graham was restored to perfect health, and with a gain in weight of forty-five pounds to witness to the reality of the cure.

"I am just as well now as I was when I came into the world," writes Mrs. P. A. Graham, of 617 Race Street, New Orleans, La. "I will put it at that anyway for I cannot remember ever seeing a well day since I became a woman (twenty-five years ago), until six months ago when I began the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' They are the best medicines on earth made for women and their complaints. No matter what the disease may be, even if called incurable by doctors. I was treated by several country physicians and also had some of the best city physicians to prescribe for me. They all said my case was incurable, being a chronic disease of long standing. I had been sick for eight years until six months ago, when I commenced with Dr. R. V. Pierce's medicine, and it brought me out to where I am now, from ninety pounds to one hundred and thirty-five. If any suffering woman will write Dr. Pierce he will write her a fatherly letter and give her good advice, and if she will follow his instructions will find out in a very short time that she has been mistaken by putting her trust in home doctors."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. Its use will carry a woman in comfort through that trying period known as the turn of life. It soothes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces refreshing sleep.

Sick women, especially those suffering from chronic forms of disease, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held sacredly private and strictly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
